NEXT Monday is Yum Kupper or Day of Atonement, one of the most sacred holidays observed by the Jews. All the Jewish places of business in this city will be closed on that day.

DURING his recent trip to Michigan, Deputy Sheriff Wallace Mitchell, while out fishing in a boat hung a fish on his line which started on a run across the lake taking the boat and its occupants with him. The fish went so fast that the bottom of the boat was burned out and only for the fact that Mr. Mitchell is a good swimmer he would have been drowned. As it was he had a narrow escape.

P. S. The above is Mr. Mitchell's side of the story. We cannot vouch for it.

New Cynthia Bank.

The McKinley Memorial Services.

The largest audience ever assembled within the walls of the Grand Opera House in this city was gathered there yesterday morning to witness the memorial services of our murdered President. The proclamation issued by Mayor Perry asking the merchants to close their places of business was universally observed. At 10:30 o'clock, when the services began there was not a foot of standing room in the house.

From the rear of the gallery to the front row in the parquette was a mass of people. It was fortunate that the day was cool or the suffering of so large an audience, packed as they were, would have been unbearable.

The lobby of the house and the stage were beautifully decorated with the American flag and bunting intermingled with black. At 10:30 o'clock the services were opened with a song by the children of the Public School. An invocation was then delivered by Rev. Dr. Varden, after which the entire audience joined in singing "America," and afterwards recited the Lord's Prayer.

Mr. T. Earl Ashbrook presided over the meeting and in his remarks paid a beautiful tribute to the dead President. The next on the program was the reading of the President's proclamation by the Rev. J. S. Meredith, followed by Scripture reading by the Rev. J. M. Fuqua.

A quartette composed of Mrs. Frank Pithian, Mrs. Walter Clark, Dr. Frank Pithian and Frank Walker beautifully rendered an anthem. Hon. C. M. Thomas then delivered the opening address. His tribute to the great devotion of the President to his wife brought tears to the eyes of almost every one in the audience. His oration was pronounced by those present to be the masterpiece of his life.

The President's favorite hymn, "Lead Kindly Light," was beautifully rendered by the quartette. The second address was delivered by Judge H. Clay Howard, who paid a beautiful tribute to the noble character and devotion to duty to the martyred President. Next was an anthem by the quartette, after which Elder J. S. Sweeney delivered a touching address. The entire audience then joined in singing "Nearer My God to Thee," after which the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Dr. Rutherford and the vast audience was dismissed.

No more representative audience was ever gathered within the four walls of the pretty play house. From all stages of life, the rich and the poor, the humble and the exalted, the white and the black citizen, all shared in their endeavors to do honor to the dead ruler. Many pathetic scenes were witnessed. Mr. Ben Harris, one of our oldest citizens, who is in his ninety-second year; Mr. Charleton Alexander, Sr., Mr. W. A. Bacon and numerous others of our citizens who have passed the allotted three score years and ten, notwithstanding their frailties, were present to do honor to him who had fallen a martyr to his country.

The deep interest displayed by all was manifested by the way the programmes were treasured up as souvenirs. Notwithstanding a large number were printed there was not a single one left in the Opera House, and hundreds were unable to secure them.

Mr. Masters Arrested.

Mr. E. C. Masters, superintendent of the East Tennessee Telephone Company at this place, was arrested on Wednesday last by Deputy Sheriff Jas. Burke, on a warrant charging him with forgery. It is charged that Mr. Masters, in making out his payrolls, would forge the names of persons in his employ, and also place fictitious names on the roll. The auditor of the company, Mr. Baker, has been here several days, and it is understood that it was his discovery of the peculations which caused the warrant to be issued. The bail was fixed at one thousand dollars which was furnished by Mrs. Lou Ireland, with whom Mr. Masters has been boarding.

The local office is at present in the hands of Mr. Baker. It is not known at present who will succeed Mr. Masters. Mr. Master's trial is set for September 25th before Judge Webb.

Tim Murphy's New Play.

The New York Dramatic Mirror of last week had the following to say of Tim Murphy and his new play, which will be seen at the Grand in this city in a few weeks:

"Tim Murphy and company gave the initial performance at the Great Southern Theatre, Columbus, O., September 5th, of a new comedy by Paul Wilstach, entitled 'A Capital Comedy.' The play deals with present day life in Washington, and was written for Mr. Murphy, who has the role of Joel Gay, an impoverished claimant against the Government, who has haunted the Capital for years in hopes that Congress will sanction his claim and make him rich. It is a type familiar to Washingtonians, and is accurately drawn. Mr. Murphy interprets it admirably, giving a quaint, pathetic and amusing characterization, that the Columbus critics praised highly. The play is said to be strong in plot and excellent in construction. The supporting company, headed by Dorothy Sherrod, was adequate in every way."

You Do, or You Don't Need Glasses

The eye being a rather delicate organ, great care should be exercised in the selection of proper glasses. Many believe that glasses should be restored to only when the sight becomes so defective as not to be able to do without. This is a great mistake which must be combatted. Whenever there is unmistakable evidence of the need of their aid, they should be used. A neglect of this rule sometimes produces mischief which results in serious trouble if the course be persisted in.

Our Dr. C. H. BOWEN having just returned from taking a special course in Optics from one of the best specialists in New York, is prepared to do the best work, having the latest improved methods of fitting. Examinations free. Next visit Thursday, Sept. 26, 1901.
